

PRESS RELEASE

RELEASE DATE: IMMEDIATELY

Marietta, Ohio, USA...Terra Sonic International, LLC (TSi) has announced the formation of a strategic alliance with Earth Tech Drilling, Inc., located in Pompano Beach, Florida. Earth Tech Drilling is South Florida's leading drilling contractor with a solid reputation for providing superior service, project management, schedule control, innovative and cost-effective solutions as well as technical excellence in the environmental drilling arena, which includes many high profile projects throughout the state of Florida. This alliance will introduce Sonic Drilling into the Earth Tech Drilling operation and allow them to leverage Sonic Drilling expertise from TSi - the industry leader.

Both TSi and Earth Tech Drilling are known for exceptional customer service and are involved in environmental and geotechnical projects for a broad customer base. This alliance will expand all of those relationships. Terra Sonic, with a history that can be traced back to 1992, is recognized as the industry-leading manufacturer of Sonic Drilling technology and is a top tier provider of Sonic Drilling services in select markets.

"We are very excited to have formed this strategic alliance with Earth Tech Drilling to further our Sonic footprint in the South," said Bob Lauson, President of Terra Sonic International. "With Earth Tech Drilling experiencing increasing customer demand for Sonic Drilling services, this relationship made sense. We found that both companies had similar reputations for high quality professional service so customers should feel very comfortable with this relationship."

Bob Orlando, Owner and President of Earth Tech Drilling, stated, "Our customer base has come to rely on Earth Tech Drilling because of the equal emphasis we place on quality, safety, health and the environment, while continuing to develop innovative solutions utilizing the newest technology to satisfy their client's ever changing environmental needs. One of those needs is sonic drilling capability and now, through the alliance with TSi, we are able to expand our capabilities with a proven Sonic Drilling Services and Manufacturing company. The feedback from our clients has been incredible and we look forward to a bright future through this alliance."

Headquartered in Marietta, Ohio, Terra Sonic International is the only Sonic Drilling company 100% dedicated to the engineering, manufacture, and operation of Sonic Drill rigs on a world-wide basis. TSi has regional services offices in Aiken, South Carolina; Raleigh, North Carolina; Memphis, Tennessee; and Orlando, Florida. To learn more visit www.terrasonicinternational.com.
