

A PARTING SHOT

Steven Widincamp, chief of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Savannah District's exploration unit, takes a turn with the district's new TerraSonic drill rig. The rig — the first of its kind for USACE — will go to work in subsurface and geotechnical investigation projects.

Source: George Jumara / USACE

